The first thing that I did was to write down all the names of the people who had been in the house at the time of the murder. I then went to the police station and gave them a list of the names. They were very helpful and gave me a list of the names of the people who had been in the house at the time of the murder.

The first thing I saw when I stepped out of the car was the bright sun shining on the water. The water was so clear I could see the bottom. The sand was so soft it felt like a cloud. The people were so happy and the music was so loud. It was just what I needed. I had been so stressed and so busy. Now I was finally relaxing. I was finally enjoying life. I was finally being happy. I was finally being free. I was finally being me.
