1. The first part of the book is devoted to a general survey of the history of the world, from the beginning of time to the present day. It is written in a simple and straightforward style, and is intended for the use of students in the lower grades of the common schools.

2. The second part of the book is devoted to a description of the different parts of the world, and of the people who inhabit them. It is written in a similar style to the first part, and is also intended for the use of students in the lower grades of the common schools.

3. The third part of the book is devoted to a description of the different kinds of animals and plants which are found in the world. It is written in a similar style to the first two parts, and is also intended for the use of students in the lower grades of the common schools.

The text in this section is extremely faint and illegible due to the low resolution and high noise of the scan. It appears to be a block of text, possibly a list or a series of paragraphs, but the individual characters and words cannot be discerned.
