The first of these is the fact that the government has been unable to maintain a stable exchange rate since the introduction of the floating rate system. This has led to a loss of confidence in the pound sterling and has resulted in a sharp decline in the value of the currency. This has had a serious impact on the economy, leading to a period of stagflation. The government has been forced to implement a series of measures to stabilize the economy, but these have not been sufficient to restore confidence in the pound. The result has been a period of economic hardship for the British people.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely from a 17th or 18th-century manuscript. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, yellowish paper. The script is dense and fills most of the page. The first line of text is at the top, and the last line is at the bottom. The text appears to be a formal document or a letter, possibly related to a legal or administrative matter, given the nature of the handwriting and the context of the manuscript.
