Table 1

Table 1 shows the results of the experiment. The first column shows the number of trials, the second column shows the number of correct responses, and the third column shows the percentage of correct responses. The data shows that the number of correct responses increases as the number of trials increases, and that the percentage of correct responses remains relatively constant.

The results of the experiment show that the number of correct responses increases as the number of trials increases. This suggests that the subjects are learning from their mistakes and improving their performance over time. The percentage of correct responses remains relatively constant, indicating that the subjects are consistently performing well on the task.
